

F.B.I. Says Pair Planned Murder

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—The F.B.I. says a Nazi diplomat and a German-American Bund member had a plan for assassinating King George and Queen Elizabeth of England when they visited America in 1939.

An F.B.I. official told newsmen the pair were Fritz Weidemann, German consul general at San Francisco, and Herman Schwinn, Los Angeles Bund leader who later was deported as a dangerous alien.

The San Francisco Call-Bulletin said in a copyrighted story the F.B.I. learned of the plot in May, 1939, and "one of the greatest protective nets ever assembled in modern times was immediately thrown about the King and Queen on their trip to Canada and later to Hyde Park, N. Y., where they were guests of President and Mrs. Roosevelt."

Former Banker Is Held as Material Collins Witness

Louis S. Lados' Bail Is Set at $100,000 in Alleged Mergenthaler
Embezzlement

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—A former New York city banker was held in $100,000 bail today as a material witness in the alleged embezzlement of $780,000 from the Mergenthaler Linotype Company.

The banker is Louis S. Lados of Riverside, Conn., who resigned Monday as vice-president of the Hellenic Bank and Trust Company of New York, a post he held for two and a half years.

He was arrested yesterday after four men and an optical company were indicted by a Kings County Grand Jury on forgery and larceny charges in the alleged fraud.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph P. Hoey said Julius Lobel, alias Jimmy Collins, one of those under indictment, met Lados socially and that Lobel opened an account in the Hellenic Bank under the name of A. O. Schumacher and said Hoey said Lados represented himself as Alfred Schumacher and that $178,000 in Mergenthaler checks had been cashed or cleared through the bank.

Hoey said $8,000 remained in the account.

Lados, under questioning by Judge Louis Goldstein, said he met Collins but denied any knowledge of the account. He said he had been absent from the bank for nine weeks because of family illness.

Others named in the 470-count indictment are:

William A. Nickel, 40, former cashier-bookkeeper for the Mergenthaler Company; Isadore Rappaport, and Irving (Izzie) Eel Cohen. Nickel's bail was set at $150,000. Bail was placed at $250,000 each for Rappaport and Cohen, and $100,000 for Cohen. All defendants pleaded innocent.

The Ultima Optical Company, of which Rappaport is president and owner, was the company indicted in the case, was not indicted yesterday and McDonald declined comment on him.

At McDonald's request, Judge Goldstein continued the life of the present grand jury to January 2 and told its members to investigate the city's 115 check cashing companies.

TB Seal Sale Hits $618 for First Day

Drive to Raise Health Fund
Will Continue Through Christmas Time

Returns from the first day of the 1946 Christmas Seal Sale amounted to $618.35 according to an announcement made yesterday by Edward P. Rochford, Seal Sale chairman. The sale of Seals to finance the tuberculosis control program of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association began today and will continue through Christmas.

"The sum," he explained, "represents the total of contributions from persons who sent checks for their Seals by return mail. We appreciate their prompt response to our appeal. If they continue to come in at this rate, we soon know that the program planned by the association for the year 1947 can be carried out."

The goal for the current Seal sale is $2,000, the minimum necessary to support the association's program.

A board of directors hope to launch the program of free chest X-rays, health education and promotion, tuberculosis prevention, and hospital rehabilitation program.

Board Asks Council Aid On Tax Law

Action Sought to Give Help in 1948 When Present Exemptions Is to End

Would Lack Funds
Unless Statute Passes, Schools Won't Have Any Money

The Board of Education Tuesday evening adopted a resolution requesting the Common Council of the City of Kingston to again petition the State Legislature to pass a law exempting from the 2 per cent tax limitation the funds raised by taxation in the city for educational purposes. While the present exemption will run for two more years, the Board took action last evening in order that the matter might be presented at the 1947 legislative session and the exemption fail to be adopted at the 1947 session, it could again be brought up at the 1948 session.

At the present time the Board of Education of Kingston, along with boards in some forty communities, is exempted from the provisions of the 2 per cent tax limitation law. The resolution adopted last evening calls for a further exemption for the fiscal year beginning January 1, 1949 and for the four succeeding fiscal years.

It was pointed out that at the present time the full levy under the 2 per cent tax limitation law is being used for operation of the city departments, exclusive of the educational system and unless the limitation provisions are removed from the law, the Board would be impossible to raise money for operation of the school system after 1948.

The Board also voted to increase the amount of the city's buildings and contents because of the increased cost of replacement.

Trustee Cook for the Insurance Committee moved that in accordance with the recommendations made by insurance men in meeting with the committee, that the insurance on buildings be increased by $236,200 and on contents by $12,820. This will give a total insurance coverage of $1,714,200 on buildings and $135,920 on contents. The additional insurance was authorized for a five year term and will be written with the four firms which now have the minimum of insurance on school property. In presenting the report for increasing insurance it was pointed out that costs of building have increased considerably since the last insurance was written and it was estimated that costs were up at least one-third since 1939.

Additional liability insurance on school buildings was also authorized. The present insurance is $20,000 and it was voted to increase the liability to $100,000. It was pointed out that should a boiler accident happen, and some of the boilers are getting old, the $20,000 coverage for an accident would not be sufficient.

Permission was granted the Senior Class to hold its annual prom at the M.J.M. gym on November 28.

There was communication from the Post War Public Works Planning Commission approving the plans for a new school building planned at Hasbrouck Park and giving the project a project number, Augustus Schrowang, architect for the project, also presented a front elevation sketch and floor plans for the building. It will be a two story brick building.

Lewis Blames U. S. for Soft Coal Strike; Effects Are Widespread

Reports Are Food May Be Short

Continuation of Weeks
Could Place U. S.
Supplies in Jeopardy,
Officials Say

200,000 to 250,000
Workers May Be Out
by Next Week

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—Food shortages may develop in major cities, Agriculture Department officials said today, if there is a prolonged coal strike.

They told reporters they foresaw no immediate disruption in processing and distributing supplies, but should the strike continue several weeks, shortages would become acute in many areas, particularly in big cities distant from major producing sections.

Drastic curtailment of rail shipments of livestock could bring on a meat shortage more severe, they said, than that which developed before the lifting of O.P.A. price controls. While much livestock is moved to market by truck, the latter might well be restricted for the want of gasoline normally moved by coal-burning locomotives.

Officials said the effects of the strike will be felt first and most sharply in transportation of citrus fruits and fresh vegetables from Florida, Texas and California.

Most of the nation's food processing plants depend upon coal. Hence, a prolonged shortage of fuel would force many such plants to curtail their operations if not close.

In this category are dairy products manufacturing plants, oilseed crushing plants, refrigeration plants for perishable products, sugar refineries, flour mills, and meat packing plants.

Officials said milk production might be seriously affected in areas where dairymen are dependent upon feed supplies shipped in by rail. Much of the east depends on grains grown in the Midwest.

Common Council Favors Funds to Be Used for Welfare

Appropriation of $57,178
Is Granted, as Well as $10,000 for
New Sewer

The Common Council meeting in special session Tuesday evening unanimously granted applications made by the city welfare department for an appropriation of $57,178.35 less, an appropriation of $10,000 to the Board of Public Works to be used in paying for the construction of a sanitary sewer in Valentin avenue.

The welfare department in a communication to the aldermen called attention to the need of the appropriation to carry on the work of the department for the remainder of the year as expected revenues amounting to the sum asked would not be received from the federal and state authorities until after the first of the year.

"The Board of Public Works called attention to the fact that it had awarded the contract for constructing the Valentin avenue sewer to V. J. Constanzi, Inc., of Poughkeepsie.

City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan estimated the job would cost $9,623.44.

Under the provisions of the city charter the city will defray 25 per cent of the sewer construction, and the remaining 75 per cent will be borne by the property owners on that street.

Impact Is Felt

Pittsburgh, Nov. 27 (AP)—A partly dimmed-out nation today reeled under the growing impact of its second major coal stoppage within a year as unemployment in related industries hit 70,000, and there were indications 200,000 to 250,000 workers would be idle by next week.

All phases of life felt the effects of the soft coal walkout. Schools from faraway Denver to Philadelphia closed heatless buildings; 70,000 steel, railroad and river workers were thrown out of work; 60,000 citizens in Provo, Utah, pleaded for coal to warm their houses; and 21 states observed "brownouts," more drastic than those imposed in wartime.

There were predictions of worse things to come if the nationally 100,000 bituminous miners continue their seven-day walkout.

Republicans, Democrats End 1946 Campaigns in 'Red'

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—The Republican and Democratic state committees concluded their 1946 election campaigns "in the red" financial reports filed with the secretary of state today.

The G.O.P., which re-elected Governor Dewey and carried all other statewide offices, had a deficit of approximately $48,000.

The Democratic state committee reported a deficit of approximately $32,000.

The Democrats also filed a separate list of payable loans amounting to nearly $500,000. Of these, one for $56,000 from the Democratic national committee was the only one received during the campaign, the committee said. The others were carried over from previous years.

The post-election statements were due last Monday night, but today's mail was expected by the election bureau to bring last minute reports, have until January 2 to finish incomplete reports and file.

Fair Weather Is Ahead for Holiday

Plenty of Sunshine Is on Weather Bill for Most of Nation

(By The Associated Press)
There was rain, snow and sub-freezing and below zero temperatures on today's weather map but fair weather and plenty of sunshine for most of the nation was forecast for Thanksgiving Day.

A new mass of cold air from Canada spread through the northern plains states and upper Mississippi valley today and temperatures dropped to below zero in northern Minnesota. Four to eight inches of new snow had fallen in South Dakota and spread eastward across Minnesota and northern Iowa into Wisconsin.

The rain area which extended through the Ohio and lower Mississippi valleys yesterday, moved eastward and rain was reported falling from Maine to Georgia, with temperatures dropping as much as 20 degrees in some sections.

Although forecasters said temperatures tomorrow will be about normal in most sections, partly cloudy weather was forecast for the northern New England area.

K.H.S. Needs Victory or Tie to Capture League Title First in 10 Years

The biggest DUSO League football attraction in many a season will be played Thanksgiving afternoon in Newburgh with everything hanging on the outcome of the important Kingston High School struggle with Newburgh Free Academy. A win or a tie for Kingston would bring the coveted crown to Kingston for the first time since 1936 while a loss would throw the final league standings into a tie which will not be played off.

Kickoff at 2 P. M.

The opening kickoff is scheduled for 2 o'clock sharp. While these two DUSO clubs are battling it out, Middletown and Port Jervis also will be engaging in another league tilt. The odds, of course, favor Middletown.

Throng Is Expected

Officials of Newburgh Free Academy are anticipating the largest all-time crowd to fill the academy football field for this year's traditional Turkey Day clash.

Reports in Kingston indicate that at least 10 buses, and possibly a couple of others, will transport championship-hungry fans to the game.

Carrying other students and alumni are expected to follow the team to the Hill City for this vital gridiron clash between these two Continued on Page Eight

Ahavath Ball Will Show Many Stars at Auditorium. 8:30

Big Social Event Looms
as Sellout; Alvino Rey
Band Will Play
for Dancing

Indications are that the municipal auditorium will be filled to capacity tonight for Ahavath Israel ball, featuring Alvino Rey's famous radio and movie band and an entertainment program studded with the names of many stars.

Herman G. Rafalowsky, general chairman of the social event, today told a reporter, "I've been associated with the promotion of Ahavath Israel affairs for 10 years. We've always tried to give the best in entertainment, but tonight's program should top them all."

Advance sale of tickets has been so brisk that good seats probably will be at a premium early, so those who desire a choice would do well to arrive as soon as the doors open at 7 o'clock, Chairman Rafalowsky advised.

"Everybody connected with promotion of the ball has done an excellent job," he remarked. "I appreciate the support of all the committees."

Alvino Rey will play his overture at 8:30, featuring the Airliners, with Jimmy Joyce, Jo Anne Ryan, vocalist, Lusa King, harpist; Rocky Coluccio at the piano and Maestro Rey with his "Talking guitar."

Other acts include the vocalists, Mayor William F. O'Connell and Chairman Rafalowsky, the entertainment will start with an introduction by Archie Robbins, Rocky Continued on Page Five

U. S. Injunction Was Command to Go Back to Work

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—John L. Lewis today held the government directly responsible for the soft coal walkout which threatens to throw the nation's reconversion program into a tailspin.

"There need not have been any cessation of employment—there would not be today," counsel for Lewis said, "if the government had complied with the terms of the contract."

A.F.L. General Counsel Joseph Padway, heading Lewis's legal corps at the opening of his contempt of court hearing, referred to the government-United Mine Workers' agreement which Lewis canceled a week ago today.

Padway challenged the government's contention that it is not bound by the terms of the agreement of injunctions in labor disputes, declaring:

"There is no exception in favor of the government. The claim that such an exception exists is a perversion of the law."

Government officials have contended that the Norris-LaGuardia Act limiting the use of labor injunctions applies only to private management, not to the government. The mines which have been shut down since last week, despite a federal injunction against a stoppage, were under government seizure.

Calls It 'Command'

Padway described the injunction which Lewis refused to heed as "a command to go back to work."

It developed during opening argument for dismissal of the contempt citation that the presiding federal district court judge, T. Alan Goldsborough, had voted for the Norris-LaGuardia Act when he was a member of the House from Maryland.

At one point during a general discussion of the mine shutdown Judge Goldsborough leaned forward and remarked:

"Calling it a labor dispute does not make it one."

Again, later, he interposed:

"What you are saying, Mr. Padway, is that when society itself tries to protect itself from cold and hunger and misery and economic disintegration, it is involved in a labor dispute. That is what you are saying."

"The gentleman (government counsel) may say there is no labor dispute, but that denies the elementary facts of the case," Padway declared.

Padway also challenged the court's right to try Lewis for contempt.

"If the Norris-LaGuardia Act is applicable, then this court has no right to issue the contempt ruling," Padway declared.

Padway arose after Judge T. Alan Goldsborough decided that his question of dismissing the contempt citation against the United Mine Workers' president, should be taken up first.

Lewis sat stolidly behind a battery of union lawyers. A issue was whether he should be punished for permitting his 100,000 soft coal miners to quit work last Wednesday, despite a court order.

The small courtroom was so crowded that only 12 spectators were able to find seats. Hundreds of disappointed curiosity seekers were left outside in the cold.

Might Get Jury Trial

Goldsborough asked a jury trial, suggesting that Lewis' contempt citation be decided by a jury. But Judge Goldsborough, a federal judge, is not a jury trial.

Assistant Attorney General John P. Sweeney said a government court could not decide the case. Selection of a jury was delayed, however, by the arguments on Continued on Page Two

Move Is Started to Revise Wages for 325,000 in State

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The State Labor Department set machinery in motion today to revise minimum wages of more than 325,000 workers in six industries in New York state.

State Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi took the first step yesterday when he announced the appointment of new wage boards to determine minimum wages for at least two months, and then make recommendations for revisions to the commissioner who will hold more public hearings before promulgating the new minimums.

The new minimums in the laundry, hotel and restaurant industry is $11 for a 40-hour week, in the hotel and restaurant industry the basic minimum is 25 cents an hour plus meals and tips for service workers, such as waitresses, 50 cents an hour plus meals and tips for bartenders, 36 cents an hour without meals.

Corsi also announced he would ask the state highway department to make the minimum wage law applicable to the highway department's employees.

The revision was planned by the wages department yesterday, previously granted to 1945 domestic workers in the state a 10-cent increase in the minimum wage. Corsi said, adding that

Bailey Block Is Sold on Broadway

Property Houses 3 Stories in Central Area of Kingston

Mr. J. P. Englander, proprietor of the United Cut Rate Pharmacy at 324 Wall street has purchased from Casper Bailey the Bailey block on Broadway adjoining O'Neil street. This block was closed Tuesday with L. J. MacAvoy representing Walter H. Carter and daughter, acting as broker.

The Bailey block is located at 626-630 Broadway houses three stories on the ground floor and there are several apartments on the two upper floors of the three-story building. Included in the transaction was the residence property adjoining the brick block on O'Neil street.

No figure was given as to the purchase price but it is understood to have been one of the largest real estate transactions in the Broadway section of the city in some time.

Asked as to what plans he had Mr. Englander said his plans at the present time were indefinite and at this time it was impossible to make any definite announcement as to what he would do. He intimated that he intended to make extensive alterations and improvements to the premises however that work depended entirely upon the availability of building materials and he stated he had no definite plans in mind now. Plans for the future would be made when building supplies were at an obtainable on the market, he said.

THANKSGIVING

Last year, with the war won and the boys coming home, there seemed every reason for Thanksgiving. This year we are not so sure. It has been a year of disagreements between President and Congress, capital and labor, seller and buyer. Americans seem more conscious of their dissimities than of their common bonds. Discomforts and disappointments have been magnified till they seem like major ills, endangering the country.

Yet when we think calmly, and above all compare our lot with that of other countries, it must be admitted that we are very fortunate. The country has been buffeted, but not laid low. The foundation is sound, and the security of the future cannot be doubted. There is still abundant reason for Thanksgiving.

There's so much arbitrary short-hand writing in this country, especially among the alphabetical agencies, that most people can't remember what it means.

HOUSING PROJECT

Fifty-two apartment accommodations will be provided in the state housing project, which is rapidly taking form at the former Touchman Park site. Great progress has been made by the contractors, with the work running ahead of the contract schedule.

Applications for these apartments now number over two hundred. In view of the large demand by Kingston families for these apartments, another similar housing project might be erected on some other desirable location here.

Home building in this city in 1945 provided shelter for 16 people at a cost of $40,300. Investors Syndicate has revealed. There was no residential building in 1944 or 1943.

This city in point of 1945 new home volume ranked 279th in a list of 310 cities studied. In total valuations created it ranked 214th.

There were 8,673 dwelling units in Kingston on January 1, 1946. Of these 428 or 4.9 per cent, figures made available by Investors Syndicate show, were built since January 1, 1930. This means that 95.1 per cent of the families in this city are living in accommodations more than 16 years old.

Kingston provided new homes in 1945 for 50 per cent fewer people than the 161 total in 1930, which the national building industry generally considers a "normal" year. The peak was in 1931 when 208 people were supplied with new dwelling units.

Major party leaders are said to be considering the nomination of a military hero in 1948. Why not Kilroy?

BEGINNING AT HOME

In a tiny tiny volume published by Appleton's in 1884 and titled "Don't", under "advice to woman-kind" appear these words:

"Don't wear at home spotted or faded gowns, or anything that is not neat and appropriate. Appear at the breakfast table fresh, cool and delicious, like a newly-plucked flower. Dress for the pleasure and admiration of your family."

Perhaps the harassed mother of a lively young brood will find it a bit difficult to "appear like a newly-plucked flower" between getting father off with coffee and toast inside him on the S.S. and milk and cereal into his small son and daughter. But she can try. And anyway it's good to be reminded, good for men as well as women, that not only in dress but in a lot of other matters, aiming at "the pleasure and admiration of one's family" is just about the most important job anybody can have. If the family is working on a harmonious plane, other things, pretty much take care of themselves. A world full of well-run families would be a mighty

THE MOLOTOV-RIBBENTROP PROTOCOL

At the November trials, Baron Ernst von Weizsacker, formerly Secretary of the German Foreign Office, began to testify concerning the Molotov-Ribbentrop Secret Protocol attached to the Stalin-Hitler Alliance. He was stopped. The Protocol was not made public.

In the House of Commons on October 17, the Foreign Minister was asked about this Protocol and the reply was that "it had been discovered that there was such a protocol but the Under-Secretary declined to say whether publication of its terms could be considered."

This is one of the most secret documents of the war and it has been kept as secret as Great Britain and the United States as by Soviet Russia and Germany. It was a document which was acknowledged at Nuremberg and in the British House of Commons. This document was attached to the Stalin-Hitler Alliance which made it possible for Hitler to attack Poland and to start the war. It established the reasons for Stalin's becoming an accessory to the Nazi war crimes as established at Nuremberg at which the accessory sat in judgment.

Until the State Department issues this Protocol officially, the following version of the document can be accepted as authentic. I received it from a sound source and while this is a translation from the German, it is said to check against the original. Denial of its authenticity is worthless without publication of the well-established original. Here is the document.

"On the occasion of the signing of the Non-Aggression Pact between the German Reich and the U.S.S.R., the plenipotentiaries concerned of both countries dealt, in a strictly confidential exchange of opinions, with the subject of the delineation of their respective spheres of interest. This exchange of opinion led to the following results:

"1. In the event of a territorial and political transformation of the areas belonging to the Baltic States (Finland, Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania), the northern frontier of Lithuania will automatically be established as the boundary of the spheres of interest of Germany and the U.S.S.R., and at the same time both parties will recognize Lithuania's claim to the Vilna territory.

"2. In the event of a territorial and political transformation of the areas belonging to the Polish State, the respective spheres of interest of Germany and the U.S.S.R., will be divided approximately by the line of the rivers Narew-Vistula-San. The question of whether it will be in the interest of both parties to maintain an independent Polish State will be decided definitely according to the further development of political events. In any case, both Governments will solve this problem by friendly agreement.

"3. As far as South-Eastern Europe is concerned, Russia for her part emphasizes her interest in Bessarabia. Germany for her part announces a complete disinterestment in this territory.

"4. This Protocol will be considered by both sides as strictly secret.

Signed: For the Government of the Reich, J. Ribbentrop; as Plenipotentiary of the Government of the U.S.S.R., W. W. MOLOTOV

"Moscow, August 23rd, 1939."

By this agreement, Russia came into possession of about 35,000,000 people; Germany of some 50,000,000. Russia, in signing this, violated 36 treaties; Germany, 16 treaties. Russia got Finland, Bessarabia, Poland, Rumania. She already had possession of Czechoslovakia, Austria and Hungary. It was the division of Europe east of the Rhine.

Hitler broke this agreement when he violated the Hitler-Stalin Alliance and as a result of the war, Soviet Russia succeeded to Germany's share of the protocol. It must be assumed that all Southeastern European countries, not included by name in item three of this agreement, went to Germany. With the exception of Greece, all that territory is now in Russian possession. In fact, all the territory that Germany had wanted since September 1, 1939, has now been taken over by Soviet Russia. It is still a Russian-German affair and we pay for it.

ELECTROSHOCK

Those who have loved ones in mental institutions are watching the reports on the results of the shock treatment for various mental ailments. From these reports the electric shock method is popular with the majority of patients and physicians.

One of the disappointing things about all the methods of shock treatment is that there is a tendency for a certain percentage of patients to have a relapse sometimes after they have returned home apparently cured. What is not given due consideration is the fact that cases undergoing shock treatment have, in the majority of cases, not been helped by the usual methods of treatment. And another point is that even when a relapse does occur after electric or other shock treatment further shocks may bring about a cure.

In the Journal of Nervous and Mental Diseases, Dr. Edward F. Kerman, Sykesville, Md., reports the analysis of 300 mental cases treated with electroshock to find out the results including the number of relapses which occurred. It was found that 72 per cent of these patients showed improvements during the first course of treatment and 24 per cent showed partial improvement. Treatment was regarded as successful only when the patient became able to leave the hospital and return to community life without any relapse following his last treatment. Regardless of the frequency and number of treatments given in the first course, an average of 50 per cent was expected to relapse. Often more than one course is required. Patients as old as 70 were treated.

Of the 300 patients treated, 204 or 68 per cent or about 2 of every 3, are now out of hospital either discharged or paroled. Twenty-eight per cent are still in hospital in an unimproved condition or very slight improvement. That is, 32 per cent of those treated showed some improvement. Some relapsed but was helped by further shock treatments.

These figures, analyzing 300 cases treated by electroshock, tell their own story. It is therefore very much worth while for the families of mental patients to consider the physicians at mental hospitals regarding electroshock treatment of their loved one.

Neurosis

Neurosis, though not a physical ailment, is a mental ailment, becoming increasingly common in our times. Dr. Bartlett, in his book "Neurosis," states that "Neurosis is a three-stage ailment, the first stage being the feeling of uneasiness, the second stage being the feeling of tension, and the third stage being the feeling of panic." Dr. Bartlett, in his book "Neurosis," states that "Neurosis is a three-stage ailment, the first stage being the feeling of uneasiness, the second stage being the feeling of tension, and the third stage being the feeling of panic."

Dr. Bartlett, in his book "Neurosis," states that "Neurosis is a three-stage ailment, the first stage being the feeling of uneasiness, the second stage being the feeling of tension, and the third stage being the feeling of panic."

It is evident by this time that our civilization will ultimately destroy itself for lack of parking space.

Sure, every nation wants to be sensible, but those other fellows won't let 'em.

Board Asks Aid On Limitation Tax

leave of absence from November 1946 to September 1, 1948.

Communication Is Sent

Kingston Teachers' Association sent a communication acknowledging passage of a resolution by the Board at the last meeting in which the governor was asked to seek additional state aid through the legislature for schools.

The letter stated that the Kingston Teachers' Association was "disappointed" in that the resolution had not petitioned the governor to seek additional State Aid for "teacher expense." The resolution petitioned aid for "increased expenses" of school operation and did not specifically mention "teachers."

Trustee Cook for the finance committee offered a resolution that the president and clerk be authorized to draw warrants in payment of the payroll amounting to $39,659.64, general vouchers amounting to $14,220.17 for November and also warrants in payment of the F.D.A. School Lunch program payroll amounting to $11,795.32 for the month of October. Adopted.

Trustee Katz for Supplies committee recommended that a contract for oil be awarded to the A. R. Newcombe Oil Company at a guaranteed price of .07 1/2 per gallon. Seventeen oil companies were asked to bid and eleven submitted bids. There was a bid for 7 cents per gallon but it was subject to market changes. The bid of the Newcombe Company was approved. Trustee Katz said coal would be supplied to schools as needed and next year bids would again be sought for the year's supply.

An appropriation of $510 was made to purchase twenty violins for use in grade schools. An appropriation of $500 had been included in the 1946 budget for musician instruments. There was some discussion on the matter of purchasing the violins on the grounds that there shortly might be a request for additional instruments and that private grade schools who sought to play other instruments should not be discriminated against in favor of violins.

Anna Novikirk was awarded a contract to supply magazines to the schools for $280.50. Other bids were William O'Reilly $414.45 and Herman Goldberger Agency, Boston, Mass. $387.95. The board also approved action taken by the Teachers' Association in sending out a letter to the Kingston Teachers' Federation and Kingston Teachers' Association which seeks to have the two teaching groups appoint delegates to meet with the board at an early date to discuss salary schedules for 1947-1948.

Trustee Levine for the athletic committee reported that a committee had been selected, on recommendation of Warren G. Kias, director of athletics, for selecting the boy who shall be awarded the "Harold" trophy. J. Hatch trophy to a football player. Mr. Hatch, a former head coach of football, had donated the trophy. The award will be made to the football player selected by a committee of "fans" who have seen at least 2.5 of the games this year. The committee is Jesse Barnhart, Herbert Lecky, Paul E. Jones, Walter Truss and Joseph Weaver.

Trustee Levine reported the football season as being "more successful than anticipated" and called attention to the fact that Kingston stood in a position to win its first D.S.O. trophy in 10 years. Great interest is being displayed in the football game and the boys have been charged to take students to Newburgh for the Thanksgiving Day game which will decide the issue. There have been over 3,000 more paid admissions to games this year than in previous years. The board is planning an annual A.A. banquet at the M.M. School on December 1, 1946. Mrs. Giosa of 1005 Cass has been secured as a speaker.

Attendance Figures

Mr. Laidlaw reported on attendance figures and enrollments. In 1945 the enrollment in the elementary schools was 2,752 and in 1946, 2,800. In academic schools the 1945 registration was 1,861 and in 1946 it is 1,937. Private school enrollment in 1945 was 1,062 and in 1946, 1,121. The total enrollment in 1945 was 3,815 and in 1946, 3,918, or a total increase of 243.

A report was made on the School Lunch program. The school lunch program has become "big business." Since the fall opening of schools there has been a big increase in patronage. During September and October a total of 39,228 Type A lunches have been served and 24,882 Type C lunches. Total 64,290 lunches served in two months and it is estimated that over 200,000 lunches will be served during the school year. The cash income for the lunches has been $16,562.29 for two months.

The board also considered a report on the school year. The board income will be around $75,000 for the school year. The board is paid nine cents for each lunch served through the F.D.A. School Lunch Program. The Type A lunch costs 20 cents and includes a complete meal. The free lunches given to students in need of them are paid for by the Board out of an appropriation made for that purpose, except that there is a nine cent refund from the federal fund.

A report from the State Commission of Vocational Education showed the sum of $7,177.34 had been paid by check to the local Board as its allotment from the Federal Vocational Educational Fund for the year ending June 30, 1946.

Report Is Made

Hubert Hoderath, in charge of the Evening School made a report on the work being carried on. There is an increased enrollment over 1945 of 82. The number of women dropped in but there were 22 more men enrolled. Total enrollment as of October 30, 1946, was 319. Subjects taught are students and fourteen different courses are being taught. There is a waiting list for Art, Sewing and Woodworking. Because of lack of enrollment, six persons could not be accommodated in some subjects. About 75 of the men enrolled are veterans of World War 2, some of whom are seeking completion of high school work in order to graduate.

The report showed that five girls from the Garment Machine Operating Class, day school, have been selected to attend the State School of Design in New York City. They were placed with local firms. Superintendent Laidlaw reported on the conference of School Boards held at Syracuse, Oct. 1, June 10, 1946, telling that Captain Edwin N. Gage of the steamers William F. Rorer and the Marlborough of the Central Hudson Line was returning from active military service after 32 years of continuous service. The captain's resignation was due to ill health.

Captain Gage started his river career on the steamer Thomas Cornell of the Cornell Steamboat Co. at the opening of navigation in the spring of 1875. He served as freight clerk on her until she was wrecked at Danskammer Point in the spring of 1881.

He then became purser on the City of Springfield, City of Calverton and several other vessels until the City of Kingston was built. He served on the City of Kingston until she was sold and taken around the Horn to the state of Washington.

When the Cornell Line sold the freight and passenger business to the Rorer & Tremper Co., Captain Gage served as purser on the steamer Rorer for six years, and later became captain of the vessel. He continued with the company until it was sold to the Central Hudson Line, when he served as commander of the Rorer and the Marlborough until he retired.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Thursday night, June 6, 1907, was a red letter night in the history of the Kingston Lodge of Elks, when Lieutenant Governor Louis Stuyvesant Chanler of New York State, was initiated a member of the local lodge.

More than 400 local Elks together with Elks from all sections of the state were present that night to witness the initiation of the lieutenant governor.

Among the Kingston men who rode the goat that night were former Mayor William D. Brinnier, Wilgott Klingberg, William Wolven, Fire Chief Rodney A. Chipp and Henry A. Weiner. Other Ulster county men initiated were Harry J. Pratt of Highland, James Shanley of Nanapanoch, James D. Shields of Lackawack and Theodore Voss of Phenicia.

During the evening the entertainment the comedy drama "Oak Farm" was given by St. Mary's Dramatic Society of the former Liscomb Opera House on Broadway, at Spring street.

Among those in the cast were Harry Carey, Philip Doheney, David Long, Patrick F. McDermott, James Halloran, John Finn, Edward Cullen, Margaret Cullen, Margaret Larkin, Tessie Heaney and Alice Fallon.

Leading back the pages of the political history of Kingston to May 21, 1907, Mayor A. Wesley Thompson that day filed his resignation as mayor to take effect at once. Mayor Thompson resigned owing to ill health.

The Common Council held a special meeting that evening and appointed Walter P. Crane, president of the council, to serve as mayor to fill out the unexpired term of Mayor Thompson.

Mayor Crane assumed his duties as head of the city government, and one of his first official acts was to resign as alderman. The mayor later appointed J. Leonard Salzman, the widely known Sycamore street baker, to fill the unexpired term of alderman.

Older readers will recall the Van Buren grocery store on Broadway, at Abbot street, which had operated for more than 40 years before Almonzo P. Van Buren, the proprietor, retired from active business in 1935.

Mr. Van Buren died in his home on Wurts street on May 14, 1947. During the more than 40 years he was engaged in the grocery business the Van Buren store became one of the best known groceries in the city, handling only high quality merchandise.

Old days on the Hudson river were recalled to mind by an old clipping from The Freeman of Kingston, dated June 10, 1907, telling that Captain Edwin N. Gage of the steamers William F. Rorer and the Marlborough of the Central Hudson Line was returning from active military service after 32 years of continuous service. The captain's resignation was due to ill health.

Captain Gage started his river career on the steamer Thomas Cornell of the Cornell Steamboat Co. at the opening of navigation in the spring of 1875. He served as freight clerk on her until she was wrecked at Danskammer Point in the spring of 1881.

View Is Considered That Compromise With Lewis Will Not Go Well With American People

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 27—Talk of deals and compromises have filled the air for several days as one way out of the coal crisis—that is, one way out for John L. Lewis. But any deals made with Lewis in the interest of expediency will not sit well with the American people.

Naturally the Lewis strategy was never designed to bring on a controversy with the federal government or with the judicial power. The purpose at all times of the miners' union leader has been to force a new contract with the coal operators.

Ever since the government filed in court its petition to require that the Lewis notice of termination of the coal contract be rescinded, it has been apparent on the inside here that Lewis would try to get some agreement with northern coal operators and thus make unnecessary any further moves by the government.

Indeed, the idea back of the Lewis action in terminating the contract with secretary Krug has been to compel the operators to come into the picture with some counter proposals. It is a contract with the private operators that Lewis has wanted all along so that the mines could be extricated from government ownership.

The operators, on the other hand, displeased by the concessions already granted under government rule, have been sitting on the sidelines patiently waiting for the situation to be cleared up before they accept the return of the mines to private ownership. They have heretofore indicated that they would of course, gladly take the mines back but not under the terms of the contract which the government made.

Lewis, therefore, in trying to force the hand of the private operators, demanded a new contract from the government—one which would indicate to the operators that the longer they waited the higher the price would be.

Lewis made his mistake by not rescinding the strike order contained in the termination notice and then leaving it to the court to decide on its merits whether an injunction could be issued when asked by the federal government.

When Lewis did challenge the court by refusing to rescind the order he created a new situation and one from which it appeared to be difficult for him to recede without agreeing to some compromise enabling him to order the miners back to work.

All through Tuesday night the question was whether Lewis would arrange a settlement with the private operators that would permit him to tell the miners to go to work. Wednesday that he had agreed to or was complying with a request for the termination of the strike was a question.

To get an agreement with northern operators has always seemed more feasible than with the southern operators. Lewis has prevailed in some quarters that an agreement with the group would force agreement with the other group.

Assuming a settlement of the points at issue on the basis of a statement from Lewis actually ordering the miners back to work, what would the public think of it? Would the administration be commended merely for getting the coal mines reopened? Would Lewis be hailed by labor leaders as a man who had outwitted the government and forced a settlement along the lines he started out to get?

These questions were in the minds of many observers and some officials Tuesday night as it was realized that once the trial on contempt charge started on Wednesday it would be difficult to stop the proceedings. For the court has before it a charge that the temporary restraining order was actually disobeyed, hence negotiations or compromises between the other parties would not necessarily involve the court or the vindication of its authority in issuing a restraining order.

The administration had prepared to send the heads of various government departments into court to paint a picture of distress and emergency. For there are some judicial decisions which sanction the use of a restraining order by the federal government in the LaGuardia-Norris case.

The public has clamored for a clear-cut victory over Lewis and an end to one-man show-biz of the nation. If the habit of calling intermittent strikes and paralyzing the fuel supply of the nation isn't cured by the present administration, the Republican Congress will find itself under strong pressure to enact laws that will accomplish the same purpose. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

But after the last customer had gone, the meat put into the box for the week-end and the display platters cleaned, Billy would tell of his great dream—that he would do it if he ever got a million dollars.

What a Store! "I'd open me the biggest meat store in town," he said. "Fancy icebox, new shelves, clean space on the floor every day. I'd buy me the longest glass display case ever made, and I'd fill it to the top with five-pound steaks, tender like butter."

"I'd have a grand opening with movie stars and the mayor around and somebody blowing a bug, and I'd give gum and candy to the kids."

"Then I'd let the customers in one at a time. When some old Biddy asked me to pull out a steak, and then said, 'No, I believe I'd rather have that one further down in the case,' you know what I'd do."

"I'd say, 'Lady, do you want the steak or not?' and I'd let her have it—five pounds of fresh meat right square in the face. What a store!"

And Billy's face glowed with innocent hate, would collect his pay, and limp off into the night, his dream so glowing in him it no longer felt the pain in his throbbing stump.

Truck Fired Upon, Haystack Burns Near Quarryville

George Traub, Jr., of Central Square, Oswego county, reported to State Police at Lake Katrine that while he was driving a truck and trailer near Quarryville at about 1:20 o'clock this morning he heard three shots fired in the rear of his truck. He stopped and made an investigation and found two of his tires had been punctured by a high power rifle shot and that his tail light had been shot out and there were holes in the door of the truck.

Truck was en route to Lyons on Route 32 at the time with a load of molasses. Corporal Ray Dunn and Trooper Bailey of Lake Katrine took up the investigation and were also being aided today by the Sagartville Police Department.

When it was found that a hay stack on the Lyons farm near Quarryville was discovered on fire and it was believed the same parties may have been responsible for the fire.

The Board then adjourned.

Boy Suspended From School Shoots Self in Home

Baltimore, Nov. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Beatrice June Coyle told police yesterday her 15-year-old brother, Donald Sterner, was standing at her side as she answered the telephone and overheard a voice inquire if the boy's parents knew he had been suspended from school.

A short time later, she said, she heard a noise in the boy's bedroom. Police Sgt. Arthur R. Smallwood said Donald had shot and killed himself with a .22-caliber rifle.

Steel Output Hard Hit
By U.S. Coal Strike

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—The first week of the coal strike cost American industry more than 400,000 tons of steel, the Iron Age, national metal-working paper, estimated today.

Operations of the steel industry, the paper said, plummeted to a rate of 68 per cent of capacity from last week's revised estimate of 90.5 per cent.

Chase Pays $100.
Then Is Remanded
For 200-Day Term

Additional Arrests May Result From Illegal
Deer Activities
By Hunters

Ralph Chase, of Croton-on-Hudson, served less than a day of a 100-day jail sentence on charges of violating the state conservation laws, but upon his discharge from the county jail yesterday he was immediately re-arrested on a second charge resulting from the same case and is back in jail just starting out on a 200-day term.

Chase was arrested by Game Protectors James H. Overbaugh and Roger Frodenbergh of the Kingston office Sunday near Mt. Tremper on charges of illegal possession of two deer skins without any evidence of sex. Arraigned before Justice Joseph Fitzsimmons in Wadstock he was given a choice of a $100 fine or 100 days in jail. He took the jail sentence but friends from Croton-on-Hudson furnished the cash for his release.

The game protectors were waiting for Chase at the county jail and promptly re-arrested him on the second charge. He was arraigned before Justice Fitzsimmons who hiked the fine to $200 or 200 days. Chase again chose the jail sentence.

District Game Protector William J. Goodman said Chase's re-arrest was the result of new angles uncovered during an investigation in Croton. He said that it appears several other hunters and illegally taken deer are involved and that additional arrests could be expected in the next few days.

Woman, 86, Scalded
By Mentally Ill Nephew

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 27 (AP)—Neal H. Keough, 33-year-old former inmate of a mental institution, was under heavy guard today charged with murder in the death of his aged aunt who died of burns inflicted when a bucket of scalding water was poured over her.

Police Inspector James C. Riley said Keough first told police he poured the boiling water over Mrs. Georgianna Senn, 86-year-old paralytic, "to put her out of her misery."

Riley said Keough later told him in a statement that he had brought his aunt a cup of coffee and that she complained about the coffee. Riley quoted Keough as saying he then went into the kitchen and poured a bucket of water and returned to his aunt. She was screaming but he let her have the whole bucketful. Riley quoted Keough as saying:

"She was old and sick. I figured that if I finished her off, then she would be out of her misery. When she got tough about the coffee, I decided that it was time to put her out of this world."

Neighbors heard Mrs. Senn's screams after the water-broiling episode yesterday and rushed to her aid, but she died three hours later at a hospital.

Enlistees Entitled
To Year of School

Men enlisting in the Marine Corps before the termination of the present national emergency will be entitled to one year of school under the G.I. bill. Staff Sergeant H. C. Holden, officer in charge of the Marine recruiting office in Poughkeepsie, said last night.

Urging young men to consider Marine Corps enlistment, Sergeant Holden said that "by enlisting in the Marine Corps now, men will be sure of at least one year of free education under the G.I. bill."

The schooling benefits, he said, pertain to those who complete 90 days of service and are discharged under conditions other than dishonorable.

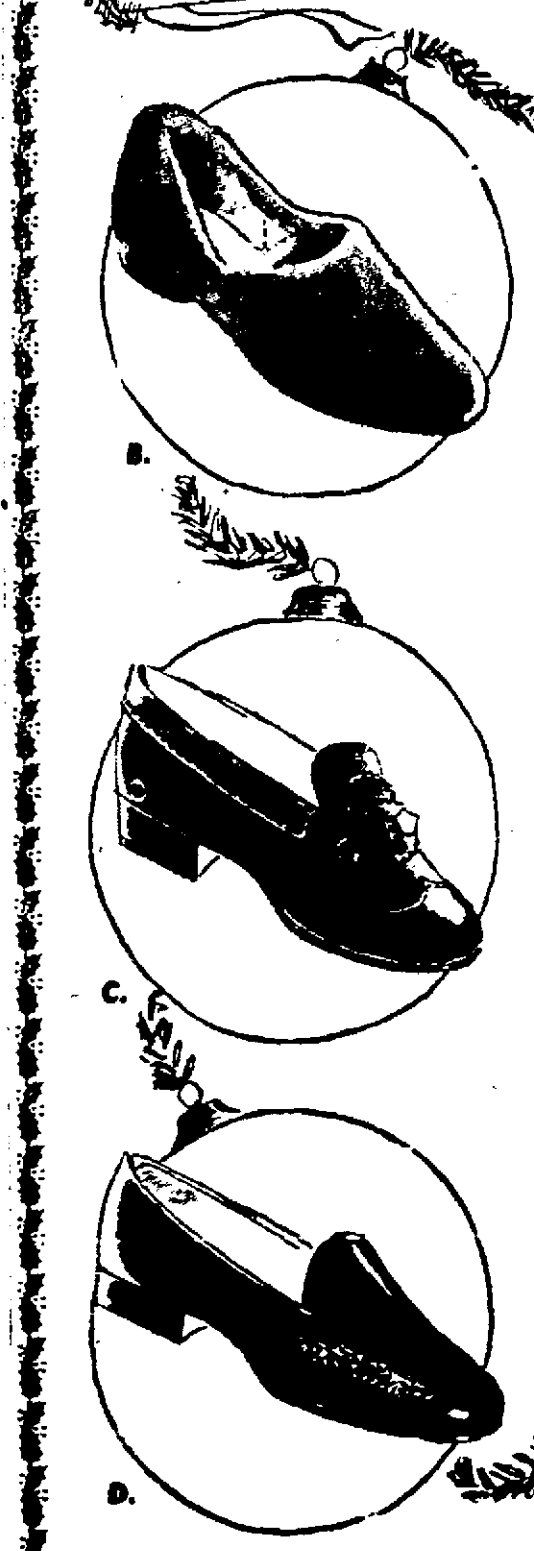

N.Y. Baby Chick Crop
Smallest Since Year '41

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—This year's baby chick crop in New York state will be the smallest since 1941, state-federal agricultural statisticians predict.

They reported yesterday that the October hatchery output was 209,000 chicks, compared with 473,000 in October last year, and a five-year average for the month of 369,000.

Egg production was about the same as a year ago.

Irving M. Ives Will Be in an Unusual Position

By JAMES C. MUNN
AP Special Washington Service
Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—New York Republican senator-elect, Irving M. Ives, because of his close personal friendship with Governor Thomas Dewey, is certain to be accorded particular attention after he takes his seat in the 80th Congress.

That is unusual in the case of a freshman member. But Ives is in an unusual—and most interesting—position.

What he says as a senator will be carefully evaluated for significance with respect to the part Dewey may play in the forthcoming contest for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

Dewey, if he sticks to past performance, will remain a very important figure in the nomination until the last moment. Also, he probably will stay from public involvement in controversial issues. That is where Ives will come in.

Other aspirants for the Republican nomination, and there are at least three in the Senate as of this date, may well think that Ives' position is almost sure to be in the minds of Senators Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Taft (R-Ohio) and Bricker (R-Ohio). All are considered good possibilities to lead the 1948 Republican ticket.

Ives, as majority leader of New York's assembly, was largely instrumental in carrying out Dewey's legislative program. This same set of liaison, or something very similar, will be read into what Ives does as a senator.

Mrs. Katharine St. George, Tuscon, Ark., from New York's 29th Congressional District, who will sit as one of the 80th Congress' six women members, already has one distinction that can't be shared.

Of the six she is the only freshman. The others all were re-elected.

Incidentally, Augustus W. Bennett, the incumbent whom Mrs. St. George defeated in the Republican primary, told a reporter several weeks before the primary that he did not "anticipate any difficulty" against Mrs. St. George. Bennett, whose father also served in the House, unseated the veteran Ham Fish in the 1944 election.

Mrs. St. George, a cousin of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, was born in England while her father was acting as European editor of an American magazine. She hopes to be assigned to membership on the House foreign affairs committee.

10 Caraway Jurors Picked
Mineola, N. Y., Nov. 27 (AP)—Ten jurors have been selected to try Ward Beecher Caraway, 23-year-old Negro chauffeur-butler, on a first degree murder charge. Nassau County Judge Henry J. A. Collins said if the panel was not completed by tonight, a court session would be held Friday. If the jury is completed today, he added, the trial will open Monday.

Health for All

TB and the Teen-Age

In the Victorian era the consumptive heroine was a popular literary figure. It was considered fashionable for a young girl to pine away for love, go into a decline and, coughing delicately, die of a broken heart. Today we laugh at those old novels. We encourage our teen-age daughters to be pictures of blooming health, not "interestingly pale." But do we always recognize the fact that they, too, may be in danger of tuberculosis?

Very likely the old fashioned heroine died of a broken heart because she neglected simple health rules and gave TB germs a chance to work. The same thing can happen to the modern girl. As youngsters grow older, travel about and mix with all kinds of people, there is a constant threat of TB germs sneaking into the body from the outside.

A healthy body can fight these germs, sealing them into a small area in the lung. But if the rules of health have been ignored, the germs have a good chance to damage lung tissue. It may even happen that tuberculosis germs sealed break out of their prison and away in the body for years will cause the disease to develop.

Parents of teen-age girls and boys, too, should remember that, of all diseases, tuberculosis kills the greatest number of young people between the ages of 15 and 35. We must recognize that tuberculosis is an ever-present danger to our hopes for our children's future, to their education, their jobs and their chance for successful careers as home-makers and in the business world. The best insurance we can give them is good general health and regular check-ups by the family physician.

It is important not to wait until a person looks "sick," has a persistent cough, loses weight or spits blood, before going to the doctor. In its early stage, tuberculosis gives little warning, but it is then that the disease can be cured with the least loss of time and money. A tuberculin test and regular chest X-ray examinations by the doctor will either lead to the early discovery of TB or will give assurance that everything is all right. Parents can't afford not to know.

We can arm our children against the ravages of tuberculosis by seeing to it that they fulfill these requirements for health: plenty of sleep, a good diet, cleanliness, fresh air and exercise and regular physical examinations at intervals advised by the doctor.

In the next article, high protein diet on a limited budget will be discussed.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health, by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 74 John street, Kingston, N. Y.

Possible for Kingston to Become Link in Air Lines Chain

As indicated by the above map, Kingston is only one of the cities of the United States and Canada included in the expansion plans of Eastern Air Lines, which already has the eastern sector of the country covered by a great network of stations. If the proposition to make Kingston a stop materializes, this city will become one of the connecting links on the route between New York city and Montreal, Canada, including upper New York communities and those in the New England district. The Chamber of Commerce is collaborating with Eastern Air Lines in efforts to establish an air stop in Kingston.

Move Is Afoot to Deny Kingstonians Plan Trek to Newburgh

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP)—A quiet move is underway to deny a seat in the new Congress to Vito Marcantonio of New York city, it was learned today with disclosure that a Congressional Committee is investigating his election to the House.

The move has the backing of Rep. John E. Rankin (D-Miss.), who has crossed verbal swords with Marcantonio on many occasions during the latter's 10 years in Congress as an American Labor Party representative.

Rankin told reporters "it is probable" a resolution to deny a seat to Marcantonio will be offered when the new House convenes January 3. He declined to say whether he personally would offer it but indicated the challenge will be based on the New Yorker's political affiliations and activities.

Holding both American Labor and Democratic nominations, Marcantonio was re-elected November 5 over Republican Frederick Bryan despite support for Bryan by Patrick J. Hanigan who lost the Democratic nomination to Marcantonio in the August primary.

Appealing for his friends to vote for Bryan, Hanigan said he had entered the primary against Marcantonio "solely for the purpose of driving from public office the mouthpiece in Congress for the Communist forces in this country."

Majority Can Rule
A majority vote of the House can deny a seat to any member, and for any reason. Any member may offer a resolution either denying him his office or denying the right to sit pending an investigation by a House Committee.

Chairman Priest (D-Tenn.) disclosed that the House Campaign Investigating Committee is inquiring into Marcantonio's election in the 18th New York District. Priest told reporters the committee wants to find out whether the fatal beating of Joseph Scattone shortly before the polls opened was part of a plan to intimidate voters. Scattone was a poll worker for Bryan.

The only other challenge now in prospect to a seat in the new Congress is the one against Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.), Senate Republicans plan to challenge him.

Senate committees are investigating charges that Bilbo prevented Negroes from voting in the Mississippi primary and accepted gifts from war contractors.

Industrialist Gives $1,000 For Boy's Plastic Surgery

CHICAGO, Nov. 27 (AP)—A $1,000 check from an Ohio steel manufacturer was turned over to the Juvenile Protective Association today to help pay for plastic surgery for David Ruge, 7, who said he was called "monkey face" by his friends.

Ruge recently was placed on four years probation for attempting to extort $5,000 from his employer to pay for plastic surgery on his face.

Miss Jessie Reed, head of the association in charge of a foster Ruge's operation, said the boy's industrialist had asked his name not be mentioned.

Kingstonians Plan Trek to Newburgh

ancient rivals. Newburgh also is alert for the big game and both students and alumni of the Hill City School are expected to pass through the turnstiles in large numbers. In all, officials are expecting a crowd better than 3,000.

Local grid fans traveling to tomorrow's game may take Route 9A and proceed to the spotlight this side of Newburgh. Motorists are urged to turn right at the first turn off after the spotlight and proceed to the first left hand turn which will come out on Fullerton avenue. After reaching Fullerton avenue, fans are urged to follow straight down the avenue for about three blocks and then bring them to Newburgh Free Academy which is on the right hand side of the avenue.

Maroons Are Favorites
Coach Willard Burke's gladiators, sensing a championship season, will go into Thursday's big game as favorites on the strength of their previous record. However, records usually go for nil in these traditional Newburgh-Kingston tilts and as a result the game is expected to be one of those unpredictable outcomes with both teams throwing everything in order to come up with a victory.

Kingston's march to the top in this year's DUSO League standings has been much more spectacular than the record attests. After bowling over a weak Haverstraw team in the opening game, Kingston was a very sluggish outfit in losing to Highland and then Middletown came to Kingston and blasted the locals all over the lot while scoring an easy 31 to 7 victory.

After the Middletown holocaust Maroon and White supporters sat back and looked forward without too much gloom to another disastrous football season. But then the backward motion stopped abruptly and almost overnight the Buccaneers straightened and surged upward to bring Kingston out of the depths which it has been in so long on the football field.

Team Marches Forward
Kingston's 12 to 0 victory over Port Jervis didn't exactly make local fans sit up and take notice, since Port was figured to have a weak tail club. Then the Maroons made it two in a row in DUSO competition by defeating Newburgh 6 to 0 in a great last second play of the first half when Dee Titus' pass to Joe Albany resulted in the touchdown which won the game.

The Maroons still breathing furiously on the necks of Middletown and Newburgh, didn't stop here, but went to Middletown and nipped the Middles by 7 to 6 in another sensational game which featured a scoring pass from Big Ed Weaver to Mike Rienzo.

Kingston scored its third shut-out victory in four games by humbling Port Jervis in the next to the last game of the season by the score of 14 to 0 before local fans at municipal stadium two weeks ago.

The road to the top has been a long and rough one for Coach Bill Burke and his inspired grid-ders who have shown good football many times during the season. The former Highland High grid mentor, long an arch foe of Maroon clubs, now stands on the threshold of becoming a coach of a DUSO League winner his first year out.

Despite a varied list of injuries Kingston is at top shape for tomorrow's big game. The squad went through a long and successful drill yesterday afternoon at the stadium despite the bad weather. The club held its last rehearsal this afternoon at the stadium at 1 o'clock.

Plunging back who missed the Port Jervis tilt due to a smashed finger is back for action and will be in the starting secondary tomorrow. His regular backfield of Dee Titus, Bill Kitesos, and either Buddy Jones or Billy Blume, also is ready to take over.

Set for Full-Time Duty
This morning Coach Burke commented that his line will be the same as in past contests which means that Joe Albany and Mike Rienzo will be at the end flanks; Eddie Weaver and Chuck Bouton, tackles; Vince Carpino and Joe Carroll, guards; and Harry Koch, center.

The aggregation is ready for 60-minute duty if necessary and in all probability most of these starters will be in there from start to finish.

Newburgh Free Academy, always a tough customer for the Maroons, also is set with a top physical squad. Ralph Yozza, regular right halfback, may miss the game but he is the only varsity griddier who is on the indefinite list. If he doesn't play, his place will be taken over by Mario Rosini, another promising high school back. The other backs will be Chauncey Zeilman, John Dubaldi, and Tommy Spreer.

The tentative starting lineups:

Kingston	Newburgh
LE—Rienzo (88)	EGgleston (12)
LT—Weaver (91)	Sylvester (16)
LG—Carroll (91)	D. DeLuca (24)
C—Koch (73)	Scott (13)
RG—Carpino (76)	S. Angolia (14)
RT—Bouton (93)	D'Adhio (31)
RB—Albany (85)	Zeilman (23)
QB—Titus (81)	Dubaldi (25)
LI—Blume (70)	R. Yozza (11)
RI—Kitesos (81)	Rosini (22)
FB—Bellini (57)	Spreer (19)

The World Today

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The general interpretation of the latest U. S. note to Poland, that Warsaw can expect no further credits if it persists in what Washington considers "disturbing" election preparations, has heightened speculation in United Nations circles as to whether the U. S. intends to make a stab at pulling Yugoslavia and Poland out of the Russian sphere.

Such speculation has been current since the United States came out against continuation of international relief distribution and in-ferred, instead, that she intended to base allotment of her supplies at least in part on the reciprocal attitudes of needy nations.

Under U.N.R.R.A., relief distribution has been handled without regard for politics. The State Department hasn't, of course, decided to stand idly by in violation of American tradition while there is mass starvation anywhere. But short of that, the idea from now on is to help our friends first and not help peoples in countries whose governments work against us.

The realities are that by helping to feed a people and finance that government you strengthen that government in whatever it wants to do, and, conversely, if you wish to change a government, hungry people and straitened finances can be a major weapon. Under an international policy of relief distribution strictly on the basis of need, the U. S. conceivably could find itself feeding a people whose government, thus relieved of one part of its burden, actually would use the surcease to prepare for war against us.

The United States announcements, plus these realities, have led to gossip at Lake Success that, whether she has definite designs or not, America is in a position to break the Tito government and force a change in Poland.

Actually, however, this would depend on what these countries could obtain elsewhere. And it is not to be forgotten that Russia, not contributing supplies to U.N.R.R.A. and, instead, being helped in the Ukraine and White Russia sent shiploads of grain to France just at a time when it would do the French Communists most good in an election. Any application of sanctions against Warsaw and Belgrade undoubtedly would arouse Russia to extreme efforts to off the damage, a job for which she has had more than a year to prepare while we have been carrying the major burden of European rehabilitation.

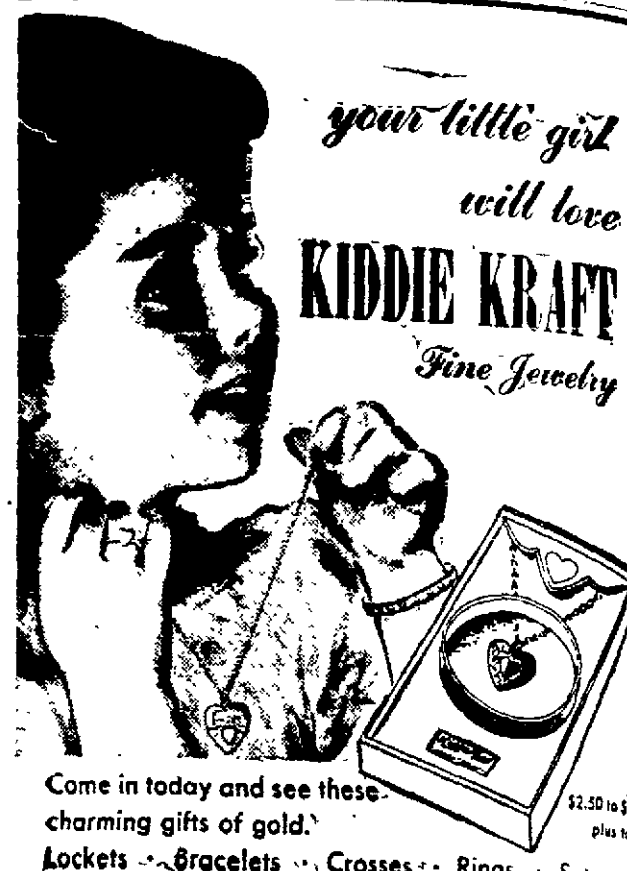

Such sanctions also must involve a determination to follow through for some time to come.

Should changes take place in the Polish and Yugoslav governments, support would have to be poured in. Otherwise the forces which have made us unhappy would undoubtedly return to the saddle. Military help might be needed, as the British have found in Greece.

This would involve us in some pretty serious activities, of a type which burned our fingers in Nicaragua and Haiti and has caused the British interminable embarrassment throughout the world. And if we tried it and didn't make it stick, the possibilities of an amicable settlement between Russian and western interests in Europe would be more remote than ever.

If we tried it and did make it stick, however, the Communists might decide to settle down to develop what they have and demand at least for a while their own some western concessions. And what has happened to some of the countries for whose liberties the ostensibly went to war.

THANKS GIVING

New Senators

By FRANK W. PITMAN

Burley, Idaho, Nov. 26 (AP)—Idaho people will tell you their new Republican U. S. Senator, Henry C. Dworshak, 52-year-old former newspaperman, "looks like a senator ought to look."

Dworshak, for eight years Second District Idaho congressman, stands more than six feet two inches and weighs better than 225 pounds. His husky frame and tan face are capped by a full head of white hair.

Dworshak is a devotee of outdoor recreation in Idaho's mountains. His favorites are hunting and fishing.

Along with his physical attributes, he has a strong, clear voice that belies a public figure. Idaho voters gave him a 28,000 plurality over his Democratic opponent, George E. Lewart. Other Republicans won by considerably smaller margins in the state.

Dworshak says he will continue in the Senate the policies he pursued during four terms as congressman.

"I have been a consistent pleader for economy," the senator-elect said. He was a member of the House appropriations committee.

A persistent opponent of federal controls, Dworshak during his campaign said, "It is but a mockery of democracy when you and I have to get permission from innumerable federal agencies before we can do almost any of the little things so necessary in the daily conduct of our businesses and farms."

Upon his election to a two-year unexpired term in the Senate, Dworshak declared, "we Republicans realize that the voters are entrusting us with control of Congress so that the nation may return to sound fundamental and economy in government. We will exercise our mandate to achieve that end."

Dworshak was born August 29, 1894, in Duluth, Minn. He has been a public figure in Idaho since 1931, when he was elected president of the Idaho Editorial Association. He was publisher of the Burley, Idaho, weekly Bulletin from 1924 to 1934.

The senator-elect started his working life as a printer's devil. He describes that period: "They sure worked me like the devil. But they did say I was just the type to be a printer." Dworshak later became manager of a printer's supply firm and then acquired the weekly newspaper.

Dworshak was a sergeant in an anti-aircraft machine gun battalion with American Expeditionary Forces in World War I. The experience led to his election in 1932 as Idaho commander of the American Legion.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

No Tip for Fast Service?

Boston, Nov. 27 (AP)—A thief who had trouble making up his mind got away with $125.

The manager of a chain restaurant received this telephone call last night, purportedly from her boss: "I expect a robbery. Take the money and put it in a flour barrel in the basement."

A few minutes later, another call, and the same voice: "I've changed my mind. Put that money in a tin can at the rear door."

She followed instructions, but checked later and found the money gone from the can.

Clean Steal

Chicago, Nov. 27 (AP)—The washing machine for which Mrs. Mary Karedis has been waiting for several months is scheduled to be delivered almost any day now but she's not happy—her hoard of soap is gone.

She told police that burglars entered the basement storeroom of her home and stole 50 boxes of soapflakes, and two cases of bar soap.

The soap collection, she said, was acquired by standing in various lines over a period of two years.

Blessing in Disguise

Chicago, Nov. 27 (AP)—The dimout in Chicago has put a crimp in one business that is most satisfying to police.

In the two nights of the dimout, Deputy Chief of Detectives John Warren said, there has been a sharp decrease in burglaries, holdups and other crimes.

Maybe, Warren smilingly suggested, the thugs are afraid of the dark.

Also, he said, the transfer of 500 policemen from the day shift to night duty may be responsible for the curtailed activities of bandits.

"In America, the People Smile"

A distinguished foreign visitor was asked what one thing about America impressed him most. "That's easy," he replied. "In America, the people smile."

Smiles come readily to people who are free...who enjoy the world's highest standard of living. And, rightly, Americans set a day apart at this season to give thanks for the freedom and plenty that are theirs.

They give thanks to those whose pioneering courage and self-reliance opened up their land, brought its broad reaches together under one flag and made that flag a world-wide symbol of liberty and opportunity.

They give thanks to those whose thrift and enterprise built the greatest industrial system in history...and with it transformed the natural wealth of America into comforts and conveniences for all the people.

For the bountiful harvest...for the matchless products of its factories...for the privileges, and the duties, of free men—the opportunity to live, work and save as each desires—for all these, America gives thanks. For these, the people smile.

Firemen Request Local Law for 25 Year Retirement

Kingston's paid firemen have joined with the members of the police department in requesting the Common Council to adopt a local law placing the 25-year retirement plan in operation. The proposed law would make it optional with a fireman or a policeman to retire after 25 years of service.

Under the present setup the members of both departments have to serve 35 years before being eligible for retirement.

The resolution adopted by the Board of Fire Commissioners on November 18, was read at the special meeting of the Common Council Tuesday evening, and referred to the laws and rules committee.

Similar action was taken on a request received from the police department at the regular monthly meeting held November 7. The action taken by the fire board was embodied in the resolution adopted which set forth that the Board of Fire Commissioners approve the Condon-Rapp bill, known under the state retirement system as 68-B, and be it further resolved that the Common Council be notified that the Board of Fire Commissioners do approve of the paid firemen "upon their own option" joining the 25-year retirement system.

Busy With Bees

McDonald, Tenn. (AP) — Raising bees was just a hobby for Fred Brock at 14, but today, 21 years later, Fred and his brother, Ray, collect six tons of honey annually on their Bradley County farm from 29,000,000 bees.

WOODSTOCK

Craftsmen Open Mail Order Department

Woodstock, Nov. 27.—It was announced today that the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, considered one of the best of its kind in the United States, has opened a mail order department to take care of a heavy influx Christmas business.

The Guild, now eight years old, will open its annual Holiday Fair Friday and on sale will be articles made by handcraft artisans, members of the unit, who represent every part of Ulster county.

Among items which will be available are evening bags, scarves, jewelry in silver and ceramics, decorative linens, hooked rugs, hand woven wool throws, pottery and metal pieces, gloves, hoods and hundreds of other items.

Also on sale will be Christmas cards and special candles.

This year is the first, a Guild spokesman said, that the craftsmen have found it necessary to conduct a mail order department.

Night Club Fire Defendant Leaves Jail a Cancer Victim

Boston, Nov. 27 (AP)—Barnett Welansky, owner of a Boston night club where 493 persons perished in a fire four years ago, was released from prison last night expressing the wish that he had died in the holocaust.

Welansky was pardoned by Gov. Maurice J. Tobin (D.) after a cancer specialist reported that he would not be surprised if the 30-year-old former operator of Coronado night club died within a day or two and that he would be "surprised if he lives nine months." He said Welansky was suffering from cancer of the lung.

Welansky had served a little more than three years of a 12 to 15 year sentence for manslaughter, protests of relatives of dozens of victims of the fire in November, 1942, one of the worst in history.

Farmyard experts have thickened the egg's white for better cooking.

Barnyard scientists have redeemed the turkey to bear more meat.

Manila, Nov. 27 (AP)—Twenty-four armed Japanese soldiers who claimed they did not know the war was over surrendered without resistance November 19 to Filipino military police on Pandananan Island in the southwestern Philippines, it was announced today. The stragglers had four mortars, two automatic rifles, various small arms, bayonets and a large amount of ammunition.

Football Forecasts

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—Grab the brass ring for a final prediction of the outcome of the week's major college football games.

Army over Navy; Saturday's game at Philadelphia will be the final appearance in cadet football of Glenn Davis, Felix Doi Blanchard and six other starting members of the winning Army eleven that started the victory string in September of 1944 and will be out to protect on the final day of the 1946 campaign. Navy could win, but none of the 102,000 spectators at the game think so.

Rumhansia over Cornell; the upstate New Yorkers need a triumph on Thanksgiving Day to win the By League laurels as a going away gift to their coach, Ed McKewen. The Quakers, humiliated by Army 10 days ago, won't be there.

Notre Dame over Southern California; This game revives a bitter feud and Southern California will be regretting Saturday that it didn't wait a year longer.

Georgia over Georgia Tech; The Tech eleven is the surprise team in the Southern Conference. Saturday afternoon it is most likely to be the most surprised eleven.

Georgia Tech over the remainder of the week's program by dates:

Thursday
Colgate over Brown: It is a common game and the players and spectators all will be hungry. But the Colgate team will be hungriest, Colgate.

Friday
Miami, Fla., over Detroit.

Saturday
Alabama over Mississippi State; Tennessee over Vanderbilt; Boston College over Holy Cross; North Carolina over Virginia; Louisiana State over Tulane; Florida over Auburn; Arizona over Kansas State; Michigan State over Washington State; North Carolina State over Maryland; Rice over Baylor; Oregon State over Washington; Oklahoma over Oklahoma A. & M.; Texas Christian over Southern Methodist; U.C.L.A. over Nebraska; Texas Tech over Hardin-Simmons; San Diego State over College of the Pacific.

Sunday
St. Mary's over San Francisco.

Tidwell Is Top Gridiron Traveler With 1,470 Yards

New York, Nov. 27 (AP)—Although his team has lost its last six games, Travelin' Travis Tidwell of Auburn again is the individual offensive leader today among the nation's college football players.

The yearling workhorse recaptured the lead from Bobby Layne of Texas by accounting personally for 227 yards against Clemson last week as Auburn went down to a 31-13 defeat.

Statistics released by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau today show that Tidwell, who has thrown or carried the ball 305 times in nine games, has gained a total of 1,470 yards.

If he can hold the lead through the season, he will be the second freshman in history to grab the individual offensive title, the other being Bob Hoernschmeyer, who gained 1,468 yards for Indiana in 1943.

Layne was idle last week but holds second place with his total of 1,407.

Rudy (Little Doc) Mobley of Hardin-Simmons is the leading ball carrier, having gained 1,204 yards on 198 rushes in nine games, and will be striving to break his own record in his team's last and toughest battle Saturday against Texas Tech. He needs only 78 yards to crack the national mark of 1,281 yards for a season which he set in 1942.

Completes 9 Tosses
Ben Raimondi of Indiana wrestled the passing leadership from the idle Layne by completing nine of 15 tosses for 143 yards in his team's 34-20 victory over Purdue. His record for the season is 74 completions out of 138 heaves for a total of 956 yards.

Neill Armstrong of Oklahoma A. & M. continues to lead the pass receivers, on the basis of passes caught, with 32 for a total of 479 yards.

The punting leader is Fred Wendt of Texas Mines, with an average of 43.3 yards.

Forrest Hall of San Francisco, who already has established a new record for kickoff returns, boosted that mark to 573 yards on 16 run-backs by returning one for 25 yards against Wyoming.

Larry Hatch of Washington has intercepted eight passes and run them back 114 yards. The only other man with eight interceptions is Arnold Tucker of Army, who has covered 57 yards with them.

LYONSVILLE

Lyonsville, Nov. 27 (AP)—Church services Sunday afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. David C. Weidner of Bloomington, pastor. Sunday school at 10 a. m.; there will be rehearsal for the Christmas program. The school will give a program at the club house Christmas Eve, to which the public will be invited.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet December 5 at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Floyd Davis.

An enjoyable evening is being promised to all who attend the evening of games and dancing to Slicker, Kingston.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY
THANKSGIVING, 1946

No people have more cause to bow their heads in deep humility than we Americans upon whom has been showered the full richness of God's mercy. Unwisely profligate of our resources; reckless of our mortal fortitude; fatuous in our idolatry of passing fashion; uprooting generation after generation the ballasting traditions of a proved civilization—we yet survive in freedom and plenty.

We are the paradox of history, for great empires have fallen for lesser causes; yet we survive, and survive in magnificent strength.

In this year of 1946, now reaching its close, we must be thankful everlastingly that we have begun the rectification of many of the confusions that have beset our people this past decade.

Slowly, the truth of our international relations unfolds itself—the miserable truth of betrayal, of deceit, of condemnation, of indecency, of treachery to the death of millions of innocent human beings. All this we had accepted as the cost of war. All this, in 1946, we rejected as too high a price for peace. Our minimum basis for peace has shifted from criminal appeasement to simple justice. We have moved sturdily, if at first timidly, along the path of international morality.

Poland is gone, a province now of Soviet Russia, a beggarly province. But Germany is not yet gone; it may be redeemed. And Japan has been redeemed. And General Marshall's confused thinking in China has failed to corrupt that country. And the United States has ceased to bribe nations into goodness by loans and subsidies. Lend-Lease is no more, thank God.

We must be thankful that we are still the sole possessors of the atomic bomb, an instrument of Satan's brew designed to destroy mankind. As long as we are its monopolists, it will not be used again for the destruction of innocents, although Hiroshima and Nagasaki remain blots upon our history, reminders of our shame. Like an ancient prophet, Bernard Baruch has resisted firmly the sophistries of propagandists and the noxious fears of scientists, frightened by their own compositions. We are thankful that the task of safeguarding the bomb was entrusted to Baruch, who can no more be shaken by abuse than flattered into error by praise. We are fortunate, indeed, that our team of Byrnes, Vandenberg, Connally and Baruch have served their country so magnificently.

On the domestic side, we have not been so fortunate, for our President is not the mightiest of men, either in mind or spirit. His errors of judgment, his ineptitude, and his lack of natural dignity have added to the burdens of our people. He has failed to recognize that production is more essential than politics; the reconstruction of our nation more important than his reelection. Yet, the conscience of the people is firm, and they have resisted the blandishments of both bureaucrat and politician.

It has been an amazing spectacle to witness the survival of a nation during the silliness of the O.P.A. and after its virtual abandonment. Even more, we are surviving Presidential incompetence. A man who can be photographed daily in the cap of sunny dalliance, all smiles and good cheer, in the Florida playground, on the verge of and during a devastating strike, enjoys the Presidency more than anyone with a sense of obligation should. That office is not a delight; it is a responsibility. In fact, when the Presidency becomes a pleasure rather than a moral obligation, the nation is, indeed, in danger.

Yet, we are thankful that the people in their wisdom have chosen a Congress so balanced that it, rather than the President, will dominate government policies. The Republicans hold barely a majority of the Senate and not enough of either house to override a veto. Therein lies a deep peril in a reconstructive era.

Yet, in the nation's peril, Republicans and Democrats will combine to give their country a national government, to restore to full richness the principals of moral life and decent respect for the needs and rights of the individual man which the Puritans planted in our soil three centuries ago. For this we are thankful. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

PAY AS YOU RIDE
A small down payment and 8 monthly payments buys auto insurance. If you want credit, you need insurance to avoid trouble and possible loss of your driver's license.

For $3.00 you can buy $1,100 fire insurance on furniture in a dwelling in Kingston for 3 years. The policy also covers up to $110 in any place outside the home.

What if someone falls on your sidewalk or is injured on your premises? $5 a year insures a private home against such claims.

Let us insure your FUR COAT against loss or damage, anywhere, no matter how.

I have a monthly payment plan which enables business men to pay insurance premiums out of income. It's a confidential, convenient insurance service.

Deed to Ulster Grange

A deed for the former Esopus Reformed Church property was transferred to Ulster Grange on Tuesday. Opta Gaudette, secretary of Ulster Grange, is shown presenting the check to Holt N. Winfield, treasurer of Esopus Reformed Church, and Harold V. Story, clerk of the consistory of the Esopus Church, gives to George M. Hard, master of Ulster Grange, the deed for the former church property.

St. Paul Council Calls for Action To Reopen Schools

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 27 (AP) — The St. Paul Council of Parents and Teachers today called for emergency city council action to reopen 77 grade and high schools which have been stricken since Monday and picketed by their 1,000 teachers, seeking higher salaries.

The P-T Council's entry into the strike picture came as Gov. Edward J. Thye summoned the Minnesota legislative delegation from Ramsey county, which includes St. Paul, to meet with the eight-member strike negotiating committee today. The committee ended two days of deliberation last night without reaching an accord and the teachers were ordered back onto their picket lines today.

In Minneapolis, classes were being held as usual while teachers continued to ponder a settlement offer. The settlement offer proposes an ultimate $18,000 top salary as against the present $13,000. In St. Paul, the strikers are asking for a $2,400-$5,000 annual salary range instead of the current $1,500-$2,800 yearly schedule.

Trumans Entertain At White House

President and Wife Hosts to 68 Guests at Diplomatic Dinner

Washington, Nov. 27 (AP) — America's wartime social blackout now has officially ended. The President and Mrs. Truman were hosts last night to representatives of 30 nations and to 38 other guests at a diplomatic dinner in the White House since the troubled days of 1939 when Hitler challenged the world.

A second diplomatic dinner will be given next Tuesday. The resumed formal social calendar will continue through February 18 with four additional dinners—for the cabinet, the chief justice, the president pro tempore of the Senate, and the speaker of the House—and five receptions.

The guests assembled in the east room where they were greeted by the President and Mrs. Truman. The first lady wore a black velvet gown with a short train. Margaret Truman, their 22-year-old daughter who has been in New York, did not attend.

In the entrance way to the state dining room were baskets of red carnations, and in bowls in alcoves glowed the ballroom's red roses. On the right of the foyer was a portrait many of the guests had not seen before—that of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The guests dined at the famous horseshoe table at the center of which, facing the room, sat the President in a high back chair and opposite him Mrs. Truman. To the President's right was Madame Martins and to his left, Madame London, wife of the ambassador of the Netherlands.

The gold dinner service was used. From fine crystal glasses in hawk pattern the guests drank water, sauterne, sherry and champagne.

An innovation was that no additional guests were invited for the musical program that followed the dinner. The artist who played for a half hour was a young Chicopee, Mass., girl, Sylvia Zarembo, who with her mother, Mrs. Anna Zarembo, were dinner guests.

We Give Thanks
What nation enjoys such plenty, truly we have more than enough. Let us not with strife and contention thwart His purpose and halt the flow of His bounty for the good of all. On this great feast day, we should pause in prayer for the many who have not been so bountifully blessed. Deep in our hearts let us give thanks.
